ITEM 8.01 Other Events

Rovi Corporation (“Rovi”) announced today that it has entered into a 10-year patent license agreement with DISH Network L.L.C. (“DISH”). Under the license agreement, DISH will pay Rovi for the period beginning on April 5, 2016 based upon on a monthly, per-subscriber fee, consistent with Rovi’s existing licensing program for its largest Pay-TV providers. The patent license agreement between Rovi and DISH is subject to certain contingencies relating to the closing of Rovi’s previously announced acquisition of TiVo Inc. (“TiVo”), which we expect to become effective on September 7, 2016, subject to obtaining the approval of the TiVo and Rovi stockholders and satisfaction of other customary closing conditions.

In addition, and also conditioned upon the effectiveness of the patent license agreement, DISH has agreed to provide TiVo with a release for all past products and a going-forward covenant not-to-sue under DISH’s existing patents during the 10-year license term in exchange for TiVo providing DISH certain TiVo products during the term and cash payments by TiVo to DISH of $60 million in the aggregate over the next year. The TiVo release and covenant transaction will be recorded as a contra to revenue over the license term in the combined Rovi and TiVo company’s financial statements.

Rovi and EchoStar Corporation have not entered into a separate license agreement for their respective patents at this time. No changes have been made to the prior, existing patent settlement between EchoStar, DISH Network Corporation, and TiVo, and the final payment due under that settlement in July 2017 shall remain payable to TiVo.

Based on the pendency of the closing of the acquisition of TiVo and the conditionality of the license thereon, Rovi intends to provide FY 2016 estimates for the combined companies during its next regularly scheduled earnings conference call.

A copy of the press release announcing the patent license agreement is included herein as Exhibit 99.1 to this report. The press release is incorporated herein by reference and the foregoing description is qualified in its entirety by reference to the press release.
